

SAT 8 JUNE 10am - 1.30pm

BUDDHA PALM QIGONG

Hands-on healing technique

This seminar teaches the participants how to use the major acupuncture points in the hands to activate, open, and balance the energy flow throughout the body.

Buddha Palm Qigong can help to support to detoxify and rejuvenate the major organ systems.

When combined with specific body positions and the Qigong stance, it can help to heal others.

With these ancient Qigong techniques, we can develop and strengthen awareness of the forces and energetic principles of the universe and the earth. This allows us to draw upon these forces for healing ourselves and others.

The result is that we are able to provide a conduit of creative energy into another being, human, animal or plant.

This method is valuable for people who work with patients. They will not lose energy during a treatment and can also benefit, as well as the patient, from the healing session.
